The Journal of Gastrointestinal and Liver Diseases (JGLD) is the official journal of the Romanian Society of Gastroenterology and Hepatology, and also of several Romanian associations in the field: Society of Digestive Endoscopy, Society of Neurogastroenterology, Crohns and Colitis Society, and the Association of Pancreatic Pathology. Since its foundation (1992), JGLD has been published 4 times per year, and has now attained its 34th volume. The journal received the first Impact

Factor on Clarivate Analytics - WoS in 2009 (IF 2024 = 2) and has been indexed by SCOPUS since 2016 (2024 Cite score 3.1, SJR 0674, Q2). In 2015 it was awarded the Elsevier Scopus Journal Excellence Award Romania, being the best scientific Romanian Journal.

The journal was recently included among the journals published under the Aegis of the Romanian Academy. This is a great honor, which motivates the Editorial Committee to raise the standard of the journal, and to increase its visibility. Starting with Number 2, the June 2025 issue, the logo of the Romanian Academy will be posted on the front cover of the journal.

We sincerely hope our readers and authors are pleased to see that JGLD is constantly improving its structure, processes and policies for the benefit of the healthcare community.
